

Eric Bell

I've been an official for over 14 years. I started as a recreational/intramural official in Germany officiating basketball, football, and softball in 2003. It wasn't until I returned to the states in 2012 in Georgia, where I decided to take the officiating business as more than just a hobby. I've also officiated in Korea, Washington, Hawaii, and now Las Vegas. I am a detail-oriented official, well-versed in high level gameplay, rules and Regulations. Able to monitor players and work with officiating team. to resolve issues quickly and preserve the highest standards. High-energy, outstanding physical fitness, versatile and complex problem-solver capable of working with and leading all levels officiating.

Outside of officiating, who am I you may ask. I am a leader among leaders. I am a recently retired Army veteran who served over 28 years. I exited my military career as a Regional Senior-level Logistics Manager. My military experience allows me to bring rock-solid leadership and to provide skills in organizational management, executive level oral and written communication, work management, budget and resource management, office administration management, and analytical reasoning. I'm the ultimate problem solver with decision making skills that will assist this organization with success. I have always lived with the values of loyalty, respect, selfless service, integrity, honor, and honesty. I have supervised and led a diverse group of over 800 people in one organization. I have served as an Equal Opportunity Adviser, Diversity and Inclusion Officer, several position leading an organization applying ingenuity, attention to detail, and upholding standards.

I am not a familiar face to most of you. Why do I deserve to serve you as a member of this board. I bring a new set of eyes that can see what is needed, CHANGE. If I can lead Soldiers through the stress and battles of war, I can surely fight for you. I've always been a person recognized for my ability to mentor, motivate, and influence others. I serve as HOA board member, National President of another organization, and currently direct other managers in the supply chain field. I AM HIM!
